The teachers adopt various strategies to ensure effective teaching- learning process after assessing the learning level of the students. After an intensive and in depth study of the academic performance of the learners, the teacher classifies the students as slow learners and advanced learners. The teachers work with two motives:

Catering to the academic needs of the Advanced learners still more.

Scaling up the learning levels of the Slow learners.

Programmes for Slow Learners

The slow learners are motivated through mentoring and counselling by the mentors. The mentors coach them through remedial classes

The mandatory participation in Part V programmes like 'Yoga and Meditation' enhances their concentration and understanding skills.

To match their learning levels, internship training programmes and field visits are organized to develop employable skills, soft skills and aptitude skills.

Programmes for Advanced Learners:

While in the process of selecting research thrust areas, the advanced learners are motivated to choose challenging ones. They are encouraged to participate and present papers in the State and National Level Seminars, and Conferences

The advanced learners get a motivation to aspire for further technical courses in other institutions and coaching centres and get placed.

2.3 - Teaching- Learning Process

2.3.1 - Student-centric methods such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem-solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences:

The academic ambience for the freshers of the college is created through Orientation Programme, Interactive Session, Mentoring and Talent Scan Programme. These enable the teachers to locate and identify the potentiality of the learners and adopt student centric learning methodologies.

Experiential learning inculcates self motivation and stimulates innovation. Every course extends beyond the classroom teaching and demands either Field Work, Internship Training or Research work.

During Internship, the learners gain experience by witnessing the experiments on and off the fields. Each course gets completed only when the learners are taken off the campus for Field Visit or Field Work. This practice widens the knowledge and comprehension level of the learners about the subject taught in the classroom.

The college conducts National level Seminars and conferences and the topics of these seminars are chosen in tune with the curriculum to facilitate students' participation. While Interacting with the academicians from other academic institutions, they get an opportunity to gain professional values, knowledge, skills and civic responsibilities which in turn groom them to serve the community. Students are given Assignments and Seminar Topics with 20% of weightage in the CIA. These topics kindle the interest in them to pursue research areas in future.

The students engage in community service projects such as temple cleaning, tree plantation, tutoring the school students and educating the women in the area. The students could witness development not only among the target group but also in themselves. They get accustomed to social interaction in later life. In future, the experiences enable them to reduce social isolation between the wealthy and the needy. Their concern to the needs of the community is deepened. Ultimately, a strong desire is created in them to uplift the quality of the life of the community. The Women's Club, the Eco-club and the Departments also conduct activities like Tree plantation, General Health check-up, Eradication of polythene waste.
